BioPortfolio's Website Traffic Increases Over 500%

BioPortfolio (www.bioportfolio.com), the leading careers, news and information resource for the life sciences and pharmaceutical industries, experienced dramatic growth in website traffic in 2008. According to Compete™ Inc., a website that offers competitive website traffic metrics, BioPortfolio's traffic increased 568% during the past year (November 2008 Compete analysis). A recent survey performed by Red Bridge Marketing (www.redbridgemarketing.com) profiled BioPortfolio visitors and found them to be primarily research scientists (34%) and others who work in the biotechnology (15%) and pharmaceutical fields (24%).

Over the last twelve years, BioPortfolio has become a major resource for scientific news, and jobs and events postings within the life sciences community. BioPortfolio's website offers advertising opportunities for recruitment, product, and event communications targeting scientists and managers.
